We have been requested to state that in calling Dr. Thos. A. Elliott "the first freman of Orangeburg," we have somewhat ignored the claims of others of our oldest citizens to share this honor with the honored Chief.

Just after the momorable fire in 1854. the following gentlemen started the organization of a Fire Department, and persevered until their idea was a success. viz : Dr. Thos. A. Ellistt, Messrs. Harpin Riggs, D. Louis and Captains F. H. W. Briggmann and Jos. P. Harley. These then, are Orangeburg's first Fire-

Honor to whom honor is due!

Fires .- On Sunday morning last about the time that people who had been to church, were coming out, the cry of fire, was heard in the streets. The day was beisterous and windy, so that it was difficult to extend the alarm. It was soon discovered that it was the kitchen of Mr. Jones that was on fire. It arpears that a spark ascending into the loft set fire to some old rubbish there It was soon extinguished by Mr. Jones himself, not however, before the Young America, followed by the Hook and Lader and the Comet were on the ground, to assist in putting it out.

We regret to learn that on the same night, the barn and stables of Mr. D. D. Antley, about twelve miles from Orangeburg, were consumed. It was evidently The work of an incendiary, as disguised tracks were discovered at the spot.

Nearly all Mr. Autley,s provisious were distroyed, and his horses, usules and a fine milch cow were also badly burned Among the stock was a very fine mare, which will lose one of dor eyes in conscquence of her injuries.

THE CENSUS .- The census of the State, wade in 1869, is published. In 1860 the total population of the State of all colors and classes was 703.708. 1p 1869 it was 661,099 showing a decrease ly during the last nine years of 42,609 inhabitants.

County in 1860 was, 24,896 in 1869 it was 26,842, an increase of 1,309 colored inhabitants and of 637 whites.

Revels the colored U. S. Senator from Mississippi has taken his seat in the Senate. The Vice-President had to restrain expressions of delight in the galleries. After the adjournment the crowd rushed enthusiastically around him to congratulate and admire him.

CIRCUS !- On Tuesday next, Grady's Circus will be here. This is a first class and large affair, and will, no doubt, repay a visit. Extensive preparations are being made for the accommodation of the men, women and horses, and we expect to see a large and delighted, audience at its exhibition. Remember the day and

TERRIBLE FIRE IN MAMON .- On Monday night last, Feb. 28th, at half post il 1 o'clock, the flames broke out in a store occupied by H. Clark, and so spite of all efforts to eveck the spread of the conflagration, in the course of a few hours, no less than thirteen houses in the business centre of the village, were cor-

The loss is estimated at from $25,000 to $40,000. One man, Mr. Iseman, was burned to death.

A telegraph operator, who had sent a message to a Norwalk family to meet an expected visitor at the depot with the "horse," blunderingly substituted the word "hearse," and on the arrival of the train the visitor found that desired vehicle awaiting to transport him to his destination.

SPEECH OF A FACTORY GIRL -- At he Woman's Convention, a Miss Collius was introduced as a Lowell factory girl, of Boston, and made a speech which did not fall very musical upon the ears THE ONLY PAPER PUBLISHED of some of the New England present. She made a comparison of the black slaves of the South with the white factory slaves of the North, and declared that he black Southern slaves of former days knew nothing of cruelty and tyranny; it was necessary to have been a factory girl in New England o appreciate the highest order of slaves. Miss Collins expressed the opinion that while Congress was conferring equal rights in some sections it should turn its attention to he factory operatives, and pass some laws for their advantage and benefit The speech created quite a sensation in Washington .- Baltimore Sun.

COURTING A FAT GIRL,-Don Piatt says: "I was once in love with a fat Girl; she was very fleshy; she was enormous, but the course of my true love came to grief. I was sitting with her in the dim twilight one evening. I was seutimental; I said many soft things; I embraced part of her. She seemed distant. She frequently turned ..er lovely head from me. At last I thought I heard the nurmer of voices on the other side. I arose and walked round, and then I found another fellow courting her on the left flank. I was indignant, and upbraided her for her treachery in thus concealing from me another love, she laughed at my conceit, as if she were not big enough o have two lovers at once."

"Hic?" ejaculated a tipsy husband, as he stumbled up stairs. "Jacet." an swered his wife, completing the quotation, as he fell on the landing.

Three things that never agree. Two cats over one more mouse, two wives in ne house, and two lovers after one oung lady.
